Masters Message for December Fraternal Greetings,

As this is my last message as Master of the Lodge, I will start by saying thank you for allowing me to serve you this past year. It was a year full of ups and downs, and realizations. However, we survived.

This month is our Christmas celebration month, as well as our Installation of Officers. We will start the month with our Stated Meeting. Our dress for the meeting is slacks with an ugly Christmas sweater. Come join us as we get into the festive mood.

On the 14th we will have our Installation of Officers at 4pm. Also, that morning we will host the Young Marines as they do their semiannual graduation. We plan on starting the day with a breakfast for them at 0800.

Dues for this year expire on the 31st of this month. The dues for next year will be $133. You should receive invoices from the secretary soon, if you have not already received them. Remember the lodge is dependent on your dues to function.

Finally, once all the particulars are done, we will shut down for the Holiday season. We will resume Business after the new year, under the new Master, Cory Adrian.

Happy Holidays to you all and blessings for a prosperous New Year.

Fraternally, Thomas R Johnson, PM

Senior Wardens Message for December

Brethren,

The holidays are upon us, and I certainly hope your Thanksgiving was enjoyable. I'm pleased that we once again sponsored meals for the Unity Home, special thanks to brothers Vern Monroe and Mike Neiiendam for seeing it through. I'm reminded of a favorite quote from our illustrious brother Albert Pike, "What we do for ourselves alone dies with us; what we have done for others and the world remains and is immortal." We should be ever mindful of our works and actions, brothers, for they will leave an impression on others. When we do good things for others, when we improve their lives, we live on through their memories and stories.

This month marks a distinct change for me. For those who don't know, I've retired from federal service at the Combat Center and have moved back to Menifee and Idyllwild on a full-time basis. With that, my Tuesday visits will be very few, but I will be here at the Lodge on Thursdays. We will be focusing on those nights on degree work, degrees, and the stated meeting. On Tuesdays, I trust that the brothers will continue working on proficiencies as well as music and fellowship.

Keep up the trajectory we are on, brothers. As we have discussed, what you imagine you will manifest, and the law of attraction will continue to bring men of good morals who want to better themselves. Our Lodge is vibrant, and those who choose to stay away only cheat themselves of a great experience.

Merry Christmas, Happy Hanukkah, Happy New Year, and Good Yule!

TC Dowden PM, Senior Warden

Fidelity, Masonry and Christmas - A Story

There it sat, wrapped in green paper with drawings of little candy canes, surrounded by a carefully-tied broad red ribbon. The smell of the cookies inside the package lingered in the air. The Masters wife had baked several dozen of the Christmas treats and put them into little parcels to be delivered to the widows of members of the Lodge. The Master had driven around to drop them off, along with a card and a holiday wish from their late husband's brothers in Masonry. But one package remained on the dining room table.

All of the guys jumped up and volunteered at the last meeting to take these to the widows, but I'm the only one who's been doing it, thought the Master to himself. I know! I'll call around and see who can deliver the last one.

He punched some numbers into his cell phone. The Senior Warden answered.

Dave, its Rick, said the Master cheerfully. Mrs. Wilsons cookies are over here and I was wondering if you could drop them off? We talked to her a few days ago and told her wed do it tonight, and...

Yeah, I'd like to, replied the Senior Warden, but tonight's a really bad night. You know Thursdays my Warcraft night and I'm kicking ass.

Can't you play some other night?

Not now. I'm the middle of this. Maybe tomorrow, if I'm not at a new level in a few hours.

The Master thanked him and put a call in to the Junior Deacon.

Steve, remember you said you could help deliver the widows Christmas presents? Mrs. Wilsons is sitting here...

I'm sorry, said the Junior Deacon. I know I said that, but my office Christmas party is tonight and I have to go to that. The boss kind of expects it.

Can't you say no to him?

Well, you know he doesn't have a high opinion of us to begin with because he wants me to work late all the time and I can't if something with the Lodge is happening. Besides, drinks are free. Talk to you next meeting.

The Junior Deacon hung up. Somewhat forlornly, the Master tried a few other members, all of whom had promised they would personally hand out gifts to the widows. But one was going out with some buddies that night. Another was too tired after work. Yet another said the widow lived too far out of the way for him. Still another had a concordant body meeting he wanted to go to. Finally, the Master tried the last person on his list, a Past Master of the Lodge.

I need your help. Last meeting you said you'd help deliver the widows gifts. Mrs. Wilsons is sitting here and...

Wilson?! he interrupted. Did you know her husband? He dumped on me the whole year I was in the chair. He kept giving me hell for all kinds of little things.

That doesn't have anything to do with his widow. It's a Lodge tradition we go out and deliver...

And another thing, butted in the Past Master. Last meeting you came down to the altar at the wrong time. And you gave the wrong knocks to close the Lodge. Can't you follow traditions? Don't you pay attention at practices or know what's in your ritual book?

We were talking about Mrs. Wilson...

Wilson. The hell with him. With that the cell went dead.

The Master prepared to pick up the lonely little parcel when the phone rang unexpectedly in the other room. He picked up the receiver.

My name is Mrs. Lane, the feeble old voice at the other end quavered. I live next door to Gladys Wilson. I thought I'd better call you. She has been taken to the hospital.

What!? answered the stunned Master.

I had invited her over for dinner tonight, but she said she couldn't come because she was waiting for the Masons. She got a little tired while waiting and went to call someone to see if there was a problem, but she slipped on the carpet and fell. I think she had been on the floor for a while. It looks pretty serious. I thought I'd better call you.

My father was a Mason a long time ago, Mrs. Lane went on. He didn't talk about it much, but all I know is when I was a girl during the Depression, the Masons helped us. One Christmas we had nothing. And there was about two feet of snow. But a bunch of the Masons came over with a tree and a huge baked turkey. They put up the tree and decorated it, then we ate the turkey and they sang Christmas carols to me and my three sisters until it was bedtime. It was so wonderful. I learned then that when times are tough, you can depend on the Masons.

Thank you for calling me, Mrs. Lane, said the Master.

It's just too bad someone didn't get here a little earlier because this probably wouldn't have happened, added the old woman. But God bless you Masons.

Yes, thanks again, replied the Master, and gently hung up the phone.

And as the Master pulled on his jacket, and picked up the little wrapped parcel to take to the hospital in the clear, moon-lit evening, he wondered if the Masons today really were as dependable as their forefathers. Or, if the admonition of not letting public and private avocations interfere with Masonry had turned into nothing more than a convenient excuse.
